BUCKS MANAGEMENT AND STAFF

William Alverson President

Wayne Embry Vice President -General Manager

Milwaukee Bucks President William Alverson has played an important part in the shaping of the Milwaukee Bucks franchise and the current 22 team National Basketball Association. The legal advisor of the team since its founding in 1968, Alverson assumed the presidency of the parent corporation, Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services in 1972. He has served as chairman of the NBA Board of Governors, the top ownership adminstrative council, and was elected to that position by his peers, Last June, when final agreement was made to bring the four new expansion teams into the NBA, Alverson was a member and important contributor to the NBA Merger Committee which paved the way for the monumental action. A graduate of Princeton University and the University of Wisconsin Law School, he is a member of the Godfrey and Kahn law firm in Milwaukee, Alverson serves as the chief executive in charge of corporate and legal affairs as well as the NBA Governor.

Wayne Embry carries the responsibility for the day-to-day operations of the Milwaukee Bucks basketball operations, and it's a formidable challenge for the former NBA center and member of the Bucks original 1968 expansion team. The task of keeping up with the changing trends and demands within pro basketball is as difficult as holding an opposing center below his scoring average. Embry has proven that he has the ability to do both over his nineteen years of involvement in professional basketball.

As a pro-player, he spent eleven seasons in the NBA, and was named to the All Star team five times. He was a member of the Celtic 1968 championship squad and captained the Bucks in their first year of play, 1968-69. After retiring from pro basketball as a player, he spent a year as Director of Recreation in Boston before returning to the Bucks front office as player personnel director in 1970. In 1972 he was named general manager of the Bucks and was made a vice president of the club in 1973.

Basketball knowledge and the respect of his peers make Wayne Embry a valuable administrator in the Bucks organization. While handling such matters as player contracts and relations, and long-range talent development, he oversees the Bucks college scouting system, marketing, and community contact. Within the community he serves on the Milwaukee Summerfest board, the national Special Olympics committee and the board of the Afro Urban Institute. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts.

A demanding daily schedule marks the life of a pro basketball general manager, and that of Wayne Embry is as tough as any. College scouting assignments, contract talks, league meetings, and the never-ending viewing of pro basketball games puts the Miami (O.) University graduate in a whirlpool of airplanes, meeting rooms, and arenas. "It's a challenge to stay on top of the game, both on and off the court," Embry notes. "The game now is highly sophisticated and we try to keep up in every way possible. But there's a human side to basketball which doesn't change alot. It's the people I deal with that seem to make it all worthwhile. The players, the fans, the great organization staff we have, the other general managers and coaches in the league. I try to always remember that it's the dealings with people that are important to success in pro basketball. Whether it's on the court, at the ticket window or in the league meetings. Respect gained there is invaluable."

The Embry family consists of wife Terri, daughters Debbie (16), and Jill (15), and son Wayne, Jr. (13).

Tony Spino Trainer

If there's anything sure about an NBA season, it's minor injuries, muscle pulls and air travel. The guy that handles these and related certainties for the Milwaukee Bucks is Trainer Tony Spino. The capable Spino handles the athletic training and travel arrangements for the Bucks and is in his second season with the club.

After serving as chief assistant to UCLA trainer Ducky Drake for several seasons, Tony came to Milwaukee to assume the many responsibilities that come with the Bucks trainer position. From player conditioning and preventive treatment, to taping, injury treatment and on-the-bench game duties, Tony helps keep the players fit over a grueling 82-game season. Coordinating hotel arrangements, air and ground transportation for the team is a challenging task often complicated by foul weather, delays and a tight schedule, but the unruffled Spino handles the job and meets the unexpected with calm confidence.

A native of Morristown, New Jersey, Tony is a graduate of UCLA and also attended Pikeville College in Pikeville, Kentucky, and Glendale Junior College in Glendale, California.

Tony and wife Sandy make their home in Brown Deer, Wisconsin. Sandy is completing degree requirements in education and looks forward to a teaching position in the Milwaukee area. A staunch baseball fan, Tony follows all sports with an insider's enthusiasm when the many demands of his position aren't calling for his attention.

Ron Blomberg Coaching and Administrative Assistant

Ron Blomberg assumed new responsibilities in the coaching area at the outset of this season. Blomberg will do scouting of the Bucks pro opponents as well as assist in some floor coaching during practice sessions. In addition to scouting duties, Ron is the director of the Milwaukee Bucks Summer Basketball Camp program which drew over 3000 young athletes last summer. The camps are held in several Midwest states at over twenty sites. A pioneer of summer basketball camps in Wisconsin, Blomberg coached on the high school level for 24 years. The camp program is open to boys and girls aged 9-18. Ron and wife LaVerne are the parents of two sons and two daughters and live in suburban Brookfield.

and that is where Chuck Reupert comes in. He handles day-to-day financial affairs for the Bucks and takes care of the many business details that enter into the operation of a pro sports franchise. Chuck joined the Bucks staff in February of 1971 after being plant accountant for a local manufacturing firm for ten years. A graduate of Boys Tech and the University of Wisconsin, he served as a 3rd officer in the U.S. Maritime Service during World War II and was an infantry squad leader in Korea, An experienced sports car builder and driver. Chuck and wife Sharon are the parents of 21 year old twin sons and reside in Germantown.

and Bea Westfahl heads the department that bears that important responsibility. Mrs. Westfahl joined the Bucks in 1969 after formerly working for the State of Wisconsin at State Fair Park, Originally from West Allis, she and her husband, Don, a Milwaukee fireman, are the parents of three sons, Jeff, 24; Steve, 22; and Rick, 20 make up the Westfahl family. Mrs. Westfahl directs the entire ticket operation, including processing season tickets, over the counter and mail order sales, and group

John Steinmiller Public Relations Director

Now in his fifth season as Milwaukee Bucks publicist, John has been with the team for seven years. Publicity, promotions, media relations, and publications are a few of the responsibilities that are under his direction. A member of the Bucks staff since 1970, he assumed his present position in 1972 and became the youngest publicist in pro sports at that time. A graduate of the College of Journalism at Marquette University in 1970, he served as student body president there. A native of Mt. Prospect, Illinois, he graduated from St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights, Illinois. John coordinates national and local media information and facilities at all Bucks games.

Rick Sund Administrative Assistant

Rick is in his third season with the Bucks after joining the club in 1974. A graduate of the master's program in sports administration at Ohio University, Rick served as an intern with the club before joining the fulltime staff, Besides coordinating the college scouting program, Rick assists in publicity, tickets and the summer camp program. A native of Elgin, Illinois, he starred in football and basketball at Northwestern University, captained the Wildcat cagers in 1972-73 and was named to the Big Ten All Academic squad several times. He majored in political science at Northwestern.

JON McGLOCKLIN: Still a Buck still a favorite

When Jon McGlocklin retired as an active player in September at the age of 33, it marked the end of an era. Gentleman Jon had been with the club since its first year in 1968, and thrilled fans with his rainbow jump shots, all-out hustle, and competitive spirit. He was the first Buck ever to don an All Star uniform (1969), played on the NBA championship squad in 1970-71, and still holds the team's career record for games played (595).

But the end of the McGlocklin playing era signaled the start of a new, just as exciting lifestyle for the personable Hoosier. He joined the Bucks as an administrative assistant and is active in all phases of the club's operations in addition to assuming broadcast duties on radio and television. "I'm excited about learning the basketball business from the inside and I feel I can make definite contributions to the organization," he said upon accepting the position. "On the broadcasting side, I'm confident that I'll be effective. I think I have an insight to offer the listeners that they'll appreciate."

Jon co-hosted a summer television series with Bucks play-by-play man Eddie Doucette last summer. The series featured athletic competition between top prep athletes from the Milwaukee area.

An eleven year NBA veteran, Jon was drafted by Cincinnati in 1965 after an outstanding collegiate career at Indiana. He played with the Royals for two seasons before spending a year in San Diego. He joined the Bucks to stay in 1968 and served as team captain and player representative for several seasons.

Unselfishness is a McGlocklin trademark, and Jon is a willing speaker at youth gatherings, church affairs, and father-son nights. He has served on the boards of many local charitable organizations, including the Wisconsin Easter Seal Foundation, Athletes for Youth, and the Milwaukee Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Jon carried an eight year scoring average of 12.6 points per game for the Bucks and shot a remarkable .505 from the floor during his career. He still ranks among the top twenty all-time field goal shooters in NBA history.

Jon is a native of Franklin, Indiana and now makes his home in Greendale. He and wife Pam are the parents of two children, Shannon, 7 and Meghan 1½ years old. He owns and operates Jon McGlocklin's Carpet Court, a floor covering store located at 7519 West Oklahoma Avenue.

Last season Jon told a sportswriter that "I don't just play for the Milwaukee Bucks, I am a Milwaukee Buck!" That statement characterizes the spirit that Jon now brings to the front office.

LARRY COSTELLO — HEAD COACH IT'S A NEW NBA BUT THE SAME SUCCESSFUL COSTELLO

When Larry Costello last played in the National Basketball Association as a sparky, tough guard for the Philadelphia 76ers, the NBA consisted of twelve teams. It was the 1967-68 season and although Costello was slowed by injury and appeared in only 28 games, the warm feelings that came from being a member of the Sixers' 1966-67 NBA Championship team were still around. It was a different NBA in 1968, with referees in stripes, and Celtic dynasties led by Russell. But after his selection by Milwaukee in the NBA expansion draft in 1968, Larry Costello's NBA changed.

Suddenly the NBA was strategy, and out-thinking opponents, and preparation and more preparation. Costello played the game in his head five times before the game in his head five times before the players even touched the ball. Thinking and re-thinking his game plans, the new Milwaukee Bucks went into their expansion year games probably as ready as any pro basketball team could be. It wasn't a great year--the Bucks won 27 and lost 55 games--but it was a beginning. And the following year, with rookie Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in the pivot, the Bucks made the playoffs. And in 1970-71 Larry almost won it all."

Costello replaced that 1967 NBA Championship ring with one that just might mean a little bit more to him. The new ring said "Milwaukee Bucks 1970-71-NBA Champions". Under Larry Costello the Bucks had become the most successful expansion franchise in pro sports history, having won the title in only three seasons.

Now, nine years later, Larry Costello can look back and reflect. "The most exciting moment by far was when we won the 1971 World's Championship. It was the ultimate, the goal every coach shoots for. There have been other exciting times too. Going seven games with the Celtics in the final series in 1974 without Lucius Allen was also satisfying. He was hard to replace, but we adjusted, the guys put out 200% and we Exciting moments have been prevalent for Coach Costello. He posted his 400th NBA victory in Los Angeles last March 21. His team won a then record-breaking twenty games in a row in 1971. The Bucks have finished in first place in the Midwest Division and participated in the playoffs in six of their last eight seasons.

Only five NBA coaches have ever won more than 400 regular season games and Larry Costello is one of them, as well as being one of two active NBA coaches to reach the plateau.

But the life of an NBA coach is not rose-colored scoreboards and sterling silver whistles. Just ask the dozens of headmen who never last a season, much less nine years with the same team. Ask the guys who must feel like they've been through a jet-powered revolving door when they're bounced from a coaching spot after an early season losing streak. Larry Costello has experienced his ups and downs, that's part of the job.

Take for example the loss of starting guard Lucius Allen late in the regular season of 1974. The Bucks were headed for the playoffs when Allen slipped on an errant Detroit warmup jacket and most observers thought the Bucks' playoff hopes went right down with Allen. There were few takers on the Bucks chances for survival against anyone in the playoffs when Lucius underwent knee surgery and was lost for the remainder of the year. Then Costello's club rallied to beat Los Angeles 4-1, stunned the Chicago Bulls 4-0, and battled Boston to a sensational seven game series before succumbing.

Last spring Costello's status as coach was unsettled as the club finished the regular season and prepared for the playoffs. The matter became a public issue and the class coach took it in stride, standing on his record and achievement, dedication and desire. Backed strongly by the fans, Costello was offered and accepted a new two year contract by management and a trying, anxious period ended for Larry Costello. Others might have boiled over in the situation, vented feelings and emotions publicly, or complicated an already tense predicament. Costello just cooled it. If you didn't know better you might have thought he played that one like he had prepared for it. But there were two winners. The Bucks kept the coach that had directed them to a 407-249 eight year regular season record. And Larry Costello kept the coaching position in the place that he calls home.

"It was very moving for me to receive the public support that I did last spring. It was rewarding to know that people actually appreciated what had been accomplished. Not just by me, but by my assistant coaches and the players over the years. So many intanglibles go into winning, things that are never seen in box scores, factors that aren't always evident—you don't expect to be appreciated that much."

Costello has grown with the NBA as a player and a coach. Coming out of Niagara University as a top-notch baseball and basketball player, he spurned pro hardball offers to join the NBA where he was an All Star several times. He still holds the NBA record for most consecutive points scored without missing (32) and ranks ninth among all-time NBA free throw shooters with an 84% career clip.

It's not hard to understand why Larry Costello has been successful as an NBA coach. He prepares, plots, and pioneers new ideas. His 1970-71 title team was the first in NBA history to carry a nonplaying assistant coach. Since that year, the assistant coach has become a fixture in the NBA, important to every team's accomplishment. Of Costello's three former assistants, all who came to the pros with him form the college ranks with no prior pro experience, each is currently with an NBA team. Graduates of the "Costello College" of pro coaching become valued pro properties, drilled soundly in fundamentals, offense, defense and preparation.

It was just a few seasons ago that skeptics and second-guessers doubted the worth of Costello's playbook and timeout play plotting on a legal-sized clipboard. Now more and more teams are adopting the playbook as an organized, effective teaching tool in the pros, while the clipboard turns up often in the hands of the winning NBA coaches and their assistants during the timeouts.

"The NBA has come a long way since I first started coaching," the only coach the Milwaukee Bucks have known states. "Every year the players are shooting better, getting stronger, taller, quicker, It's like the development of a super-strain of highly tuned athlete. On the coaching level, more teams are running set or 'called' plays. There's not as much run and gun as there used to be in the early days. Defensively coaches are applying more pressure, trapping more, and putting more emphasis on defense. Overall, there is much more coaching, more time spent in scouting, more use of film and videotape than in the sixties and early seventies."

Costello entered the current season with a goal of reaching the playoffs and improving on last season's 38-44 record, "Last year was a season of experiment in many ways," he notes. "We tried to give each of our young players the chance to play in different situations to help our evaluation of their talent. I feel this year I can assess each player better, make full use of the individual talents in molding a unit that can win, We're going to be more aggressive on both ends of the floor because we're more experienced and have more confidence."

The addition of four new teams to the NBA makes the year challenging in several ways Costello feels. "The new teams aren't expansion teams as we have known them. They're established, well-stocked ballclubs with everything it takes to win in the pros. We'll try to exploit their weaknesses, scout them better, and make use of our individual talents."

Larry Costello works as hard at being a husband and father as he does at coaching. Wife Barbara, an accomplished tennis player fills the difficult role of a sports mother and wife, providing the moral support and encouragement when the going gets tough. The Costello family is one guard short of a girls basketball team with daughters Lesley (10), Pamela (8), Colleen (6) and Amy (5) filling out the roster. Camping, fishing and racquetball are Costello's off-season pursuits, and the family takes frequent trips during the summer in a motorhome.

As Larry Costello enjoys his ninth season as head coach of the Milwaukee Bucks, the goals are much the same as when he entered the headmaster ranks in 1968. The NBA Championship is the brass ring, making the playoffs the pre-requisite. The elusive Coach of the Year award which has winked but never nodded in Costello's direction may just discover that the Minoa, New York native is deserving. But for now Larry Costello is content to go on winning, and preparing, and winning some more. The soft-spoken but fiercely competitive Costello won't have it any other way.

Larry Costello's NBA 8 Year Coaching Record 444-272 620

When the Milwaukee Bucks play the Boston Celtics this season, there will be one less veteran forward to deal with on the Beantown side. That's Don Nelson, the former Celtic stalwart who retired from active play last summer to join the Milwaukee Bucks as Larry Costello's assistant coach.

Don, 36, had been a player in the NBA for fourteen years, eleven of them with the Boston Celtics, before retiring following last year's Celtic championship season. A respected player and student of the game, Nelson's playing style was characterized by hustle, deception and intelligence. He reached the career 10,000 point plateau in 1974, and his 465 consecutive game playing streak still stands as a Celtic record.

Nelson is enthusiastic about his new coaching role. "Joining the Bucks as assistant coach fits perfectly into my plans. I've always wanted to coach, and there's not a better place to learn the coaching side of the game than in Milwaukee with Larry Costello. It's a challenge and I think I can help the Bucks in many ways."

The Bucks are just as happy to have Nelson aboard, and not just because he won't terrorize them on the floor as a Celtic either. "I've always been impressed with Don as a player and as a person," Larry Costello remarks. "Total effort was his trademark and basketball intuition helped his game considerably. These same traits have already helped him on the coaching side. He knows our league, has a tremendous perspective on the game from a player's standpoint, and should be able to offer our forwards alot of help."

A native of Muskegon, Michigan, Nelson broke all scoring records at Iowa before graduating in 1962. He was drafted by Chicago in the third round of the draft that year and went to Los Angeles in September of 1963 in a cash transaction. A turning point in his career came in 1965, when after being waived by the Lakers, he was signed as a free agent by the Celtics. He spent his next eleven years in the Boston green and white and was a member of five Celtic championship teams.

Ambition and innovation have always been a part of the Don Nelson fabric, and he has cultivated interests outside of basketball as well. For a number of years he has promoted NBA pre-season games, operates a summer basketball camp in New Hampshire, has interests in a loan company and equipment leasing concern in Boston. Don and wife Sharon are the parents of four children: Julie, 13; Donn, 12; Christy, 11; and Kathy, 8.

BUCKS ON THE AIR

EDDIE DOUCETTE-JON McGLOCKLIN-JIM IRWIN: THEY CALL THE SHOTS

All Milwaukee Bucks games, home and away will be heard on the Bucks' statewide radio network originating with WTMJ Radio, 620 a.m. in Milwaukee. Fourteen road games will be telecast on WVTV, Channel 18 in Milwaukee.

EDDIE DOUCETTE: The Voice of the Bucks

Now in his ninth season of broadcasting Milwaukee Bucks action, the popular Voice of the Bucks, Eddie Doucette is a captivating conduit of information for basketball fans throughout the Midwest. His stylized play-by-play delivery is carried on WTMJ radio (620 a.m.) and throughout the Bucks radio network and on WVTV.

The only play-by-play man ever to do Bucks games, Doucette's rapid-fire pace and basketball insight put listeners right on the court as he relates the action and strategy. His patented nicknames and descriptive terms add color to the game and its participants. The sky hooks, rainbow jumpers, gold-rushes, and yo-yo dribbles of the Bucks and their opponents bring the game to life in the minds of the radio regulars.

A respected broadcaster, Eddie has handled a variety of sporting events on radio and television. Professional baseball, football Bowl games and All Star events and other special sports happenings have been broadcast by the versatile Doucette. Last summer Eddie co-hosted a special television series with former Buck Jon McGlocklin which featured all-sports competition between Milwaukee area prep superstars. He is also the host of his own radio commentary show, heard nightly on WTMJ radio at 6:25 p.m. In 1970 Eddie was named Wisconsin Sportscaster of the Year by his peers.

Eddie and wife Karen are the parents of two sons, four year old Brett and two year old Cary.

JON McGLOCKLIN: PLAYER'S INSIGHT AT THE MIKE

After thrilling fans for 8 seasons with his rainbow jumpers as a Milwaukee Buck, Jon McGlocklin now joins Eddie Doucette to provide the color commentary during all home game radio broadcasts and televised road games. An eleven year NBA veteran, Jon retired in September, 1976 to join the Bucks as an administrative assistant as well as handle the color broadcast commentary. Jon brings the insight of a pro player to the game coverage, informing fans of the finer points of the game as only one who's played it can do. As a Buck Jon was the fans' favorite in his eight Milwaukee seasons while averaging almost 12 points per game during his pro career. An original Buck and member of the 1971 title team, Jon hopes to describe another title campaign, this time from the more comfortable broadcast position. Jon and wife Pam are the parents of two children, Shannon, 7, and Meghan, 2, and reside in Greendale.

JIM IRWIN: A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS

When the Bucks are on television, WTMJ radio's Jim Irwin slides behind the radio microphone to provide the play-by-play. A busy sportscaster, and past Wisconsin Sportscaster of the Year, Jim does play-by-play for the Green Bay Packer radio network and the Wisconsin football and basketball broadcasts in addition to serving on the sports staff of WTMJ radio and television. Jim's morning sportscasts on WTMJ radio offer the most complete sports summaries and provocative commentary in Milwaukee radio.

BROADCAST INFORMATION

Radio broadcasts of all Milwaukee Bucks home and away games are originated by WTMJ, Milwaukee's NBC radio affiliate at 620 on the AM dial. Games are fed to a statewide network of over 20 stations throughout Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

Telecasts of selected road games originate through WVTV-TV, Channel 18 in Milwaukee. The telecasts are fed to a network of cable stations covering the primary television markets in Wisconsin.

Conference

NBA SETS NEW PLAYOFF FORMULA IN 1976-77

The winners of the four division races will receive first round byes in the playoffs under a new formula recently approved by the Board of Governors of the National Basketball Association.

Under the 12-team playoff format, the third, fourth, fifth and sixth teams in each conference will take part in the first round.

In that round, all best-of-three series, the team with the third best conference record meets the team with the sixth best record, while the fourth and fifth teams face each other.

The division champions with the best record in their respective conferences will begin play in the next round facing the winner of the series between the fourth and fifth place teams, The other division champion in each conference will go against the winner of the series between the third and sixth clubs. Both series will be the best-of-seven with the winners meeting for the conference champion-ship in another best-of-seven series.

Then, the league championship will be decided in the traditional best-of-seven series between the conference champions.

In all cases, the team with the higher percentage during the season will have the odd game at home.

CONFERENCE PLAYOFF:

Guard Jan McGlocklin leading scorer in 68-69 season

On October 16, 1968, before a crowd of 8,467 at the Milwaukee Arena, the Milwaukee Bucks made their National Basketball Association debut. The Chicago Bulls, however, won 89-84. The Bucks first win came in their sixth game, a 134-118 victory over Detroit on October 31, 1968. The Bucks went on to win 27 games and lose 55 in their first season, but set a home attendance record for a first year team, averaging 6,246 fans at the Arena, Guard Jon McGlocklin led the team in scoring with a 19.6 average; forward Greg Smith was the leading rebounder, and guard Guy Rodgers was the playmaker.

The Bucks last place finish in the East Division and the last place finish in the West by the other expansion team, the Phoenix Suns, qualified the two teams for a coin flip to determine rights to the number one choice in the college draft. On March 19, 1969, NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy flipped the coin. Phoenix chose heads, the coin came up tails, and on April 2, 1969, the Bucks signed 7-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of UCLA.

Abdul-Jabbar became an instant superstar, teaming with McGlocklin, Smith, rookie Bob Dandridge and Flynn Robinson in leading the Bucks from the cellar spot to a runner-up place in the East. The Bucks won 56 and lost 26 that year and then defeated the Philadelphia 76ers in five games, 360,650 fans watched the Bucks at the Milwaukee Arena, an average of 9,490 per game. Following the season, the Bucks made their biggest trade - getting All-Pro Guard Oscar Robertson from Cincinnati for Flynn Robinson and Charlie Paulk. Just prior to the start of the 1970-71 season, Bob Boozer and Lucius Allen were acquired from Seattle for Don Smith.

With Kareem, Robertson, McGlocklin, Dandridge and Smith forming the starting five and Boozer, Allen and Dick Cunningham providing backup, the Bucks ran away with the Midwest Division in the newly aligned four division league setup. The Bucks won 66 and lost only 16 games, in the process setting six league records; home wins, 34; road wins, 28; win streak, 20; field goal percentage, .509; field goals, 3972; and assists, 2249. In a playoff competition the Bucks dispatched San Francisco and Los Angeles in five game series and then blasted Baltimore four straight for the World's Championship, only the second time in league history that the title series ended so quickly. In winning the World's Championship, the Bucks had come further, faster, than any expansion team in the history of major professional sports!

In 1971-72 the Bucks made the playoffs for the third straight year, winning the Midwest Division for the second year in a row. The Bucks elevated Wayne Embry to the general manager post and named William Alverson, a legal advisor to the club since its begin-BUCKs ning, president in March of 1972.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar earned the league's Valuable Player honors for the second straight year, averaging 34.8 points per game and leading the NBA in that department. The Bucks found defense of their World Championship title difficult. The Bucks disposed of Golden State in five games. The "super series" for the Western Conference championship matched the Bucks against the Los Angeles Lakers, a contingent that had run a 33 game winning streak during the season before being derailed by the Bucks on January 9. The Bucks battled the Lakers in six exciting games before falling four games to two.

The Bucks completed the 1972-73 season with a 60-22 record, the only NBA team in history to post sixty or more wins in three consecutive seasons. The sixty wins were posted despite an unusual season which found the Bucks plagued by injuries. Coach Costello had his full roster available for barely more than half of the 82 game schedule. The Bucks finished the year with an NBA record of 14 straight victories to end the season, and entered the first round of the playoffs against Golden State. Possibly wearied by the whirlwind of winning the 14 games and the final race with the Lakers for the Western Conference title, the Bucks were surprised by a deep Golden State team, and fell 4-2 in the opening round.

Bob Dandridge

The Bucks were one game short of their fourth consecutive season with 60 regular season wins or more in 1973-74, finishing the season with a 59-23 record. Numerous injuries during the season often put the Bucks in a manpower shortage situation, but the club rallied to offset the absence of various players at different times of the year. The most serious injury sidelined Lucius Allen for the last few games of the season and all of the playoffs. Allen tore a cartilage in his knee in a game March 15 in Detroit, and underwent surgery the following day. The Bucks again topped the Midwest Division and eliminated Los Angeles 4-1 in the playoffs and dispatched Chicago without delay 4-0. In the championship round against Boston, the Bucks faced a troublesome press than continually dogged their game. The series was highlighted by a double-overtime sixth game which the Bucks won in Boston, to knot the series at 3-3. In the NBA Championship round's final seventh game, the Bucks were defeated by the Celts 102-87.

In 1974-75 the Bucks endured what might have been their most frustrating season on record. A pre-season broken hand kept Kareem Abdul-Jabbar sidelined for the first sixteen games of the season and the club was 3-13, putting themselves too far behind Midwest Division rivals to ever recover. A mid-season knee injury to All Star guard Jim Price sidelined him for the last half of the season, Kareem, Price and Bob Dandridge were named to the All Star team, the first time in club history that three members had been named to the honor squad. Although the Costellotrademark of defense was upheld (the club's allowance of 100.7 points per game was the fifth best in the league), their 38-44 record put them in last place in the Midwest Division. The club's longest winning streak of the year was five games, and the team stayed in contention for the wild card playoff berth until the last week of the season. The Bucks lost 18 games during this fretful year by five points or less, and 11 of those losses were by three points or fewer. Kareem was third in the NBA in scoring while Bob Dandridge finished 18th with a 19.9 point per game clip.

On June 16, 1975 the Bucks executed one of the most momentous trades in pro-basketball history by sending Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and reserve center Walt Wesley to the Los Angeles Lakers in exchange for center Elmore Smith, guard Brian Winters, and two All-American rookies, David Meyers and Junior Bridgeman. The Milwaukee Bucks entered the 1975-76 season with a new, young, running team, perhaps the youngest in the NBA.

The young talent faltered at first, losing the first five games of the season before posting a win over Detroit on November 4, 1975. As the season progressed, all four players obtained from Los Angeles for Abdul-Jabbar proved to make important contributions. Smith became a consistent performer at center, leading the team in rebounding during the season with a 11.4 per game average. Brian Winters put his marksmanship to work to average over 18 points per game and make the NBA West All Stars. Winters started in all 78 games he played. Bridgeman played both guard and forward well, started in 19 games and averaged over 20 minutes per game, Meyers showed outstanding rebound potential, banging the boards hard in 34 starts at the strong forward slot. Slowed by a knee injury, he rallied to have an outstanding playoff series against Detroit.

The Bucks posted a 38-44 record in 1975-76, identical to that achieved by the Los Angeles Lakers and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Bob Dandridge was named to the NBA West All Stars and had his best season ever, averaging 21.5 points per game while ranking among the top ten scorers in the league. The Bucks finished first in the Midwest Division for the fifth time in eight seasons, The Milwaukeeans were beat in the first round of the best-of-three playoff series 2-1 by Detroit. Coach Larry Costello signed a new two year pact just prior to the playoffs. In the 1976 college draft the Bucks selected Indiana All American and U.S. Olympian Scott Buckner in the first round.

SPORTCOM

Sportcom is the corporate division of Milwaukee Professional Sports & Services, Inc. that handles radio-TV broadcasts, films, licensed merchandise and special promotional activity. Established in 1970, this promotional unit is responsible for the packaging of pre- and post-game shows for radio and TV, origination of TV signals of Buck's home games for visiting teams and origination of Cable-cast signals for home games. Sportcom acts as designer, contractor and exclusive sales agent for all promotional items carrying the insignia of the Milwaukee Bucks and not supplied by NBA Properties, Inc. Sportcom also acts as agent for Milwaukee Bucks' players, coaches and broadcast talent in arranging various speaking engagements, personal appearances and advertising endorsements and publications for public sale and distribution.

Special facilities for visiting broadcast teams are maintained by Sportcom. These include Arena lighting facilities for TV colorcasts, a wireless microphone system for remote interview and filming and a UPI newswire. Costs of these facilities will be furnished on request of visiting teams or station representatives.

SUMMARY OF MILWAUKEE PROFESSIONAL SPORTS AND SERVICES POTENTIAL BOARD OF DIRECTORS' CHANGE

In October, Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services Inc. and Basketball Associates Incorporated offered to purchase over 361,000 outstanding shares of MPS common stock at $8 per share. Basketball Associates Inc. is a corporation formed by James F. Fitzgerald, William J. Blake, and J.P. Cullen and Son Corporation, who are substantial shareholders of MPS, for the purpose of making the offer.

The purpose of the offer was to give all shareholders of MPS the opportunity, on a voluntary basis, to sell their shares at $8, which is the same price Mr. Fitzgerald and his associates paid for several blocks of MPS shares during 1975.

As a result of the tender offer, MPS's board of directors voted to postpone the annual shareholders meeting normally held in September. The annual shareholders meeting will be held in December at which time a new slate of directors will be submitted to MPS shareholders by Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Blake, who are presently directors of MPS and shareholders of BAI. BAI and its principals anticipate that this slate will consist of the following persons: William H. Alverson, William J. Blake, John H. Figi Jr., James F. Fitzgerald, Dr. George J. Korkos, Dr. James A. Schelble and Robert Trecker, all of whom are presently directors of MPS; and J. P. Cullen, Walter S. Davis, Charles D. Jacobus, Robert D. Keefer, John C. Koss and William J. Ryan who will be new nominees for election. In addition, Mr. Fitzgerald will seek to be elected Chairman of the Board and chief executive officer of MPS, and the new slate of directors, once elected may make other changes in officer.

The business experience for the past five years of the six persons who may be nominated for election as directors for the first time at the postponed annual meeting of shareholders is as follows: Mr. Cullen has been President of J. P. Cullen & Son Construction Corporation, which is engaged in business as a general building contractor in Janesville, Wisconsin, for more than the past five years; Mr. Davis has been the senior member of the law firm of Davis, Kuelthau, Vergeront, Stover & Leichtfuss, S.C. of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for more than the past five years: Mr. Jacobus has been President of The Jacobus Company, which is engaged in the petroleum distribution, lumber and trucking business in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for more than the past five years; Mr. Keefe has been President and Chairman of the Board of Keefe and Associates, Inc., which is engaged in the real estate business in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin for more than the past five years; Mr. Koss has been Chairman of the Board and chief executive officer of Koss Corporation, which is engaged in the manufacture of stereophonic headphones and speaker systems in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for more than the past five years; and Mr. Ryan has been President of Ryan Incorporated of Wisconsin, which is engaged in the business of highway construction and general contracting in Janesville, Wisconsin, for more than the past five years.

ULYSSES "JUNIOR" BRIDGEMAN

Forward-Guard - In his second NBA season Height: 6'5" Weight: 210 Age: 22 Birthdate: Sept. 17, 1953 - East Chicago, In.

College: University of Louisville '75

High School: Washington H.S. - East Chicago, In.

Residence: Milwaukee, Wisconsin

How Acquired: As part of Abdul-Jabbar trade, from Los Angeles, June 16. 1975 First round Los Angeles

Junior dazzled opponents and fans alike last season with lightning-quick moves to the basket...played both guard and forward for Bucks last season, may be able to concentrate solely on forward position this year. . .started in 19 games. . .scored 28 point season high against New York, December 23, 1975...played in all but one game for Bucks last season, tied with Houston's J.C. Meriweather for most games played by a rookie (81)... fifth leading scorer on team last season with 8.6 average . . developed no-arc jumpshot by shooting in the Washington elementary school in East Chicago, Ind.: "The ceiling was only 15 feet high, it was either shoot it flat or hit the ceiling"...named to second All Rookie team in NBA last year...consensus All American at Louisville, Most Valuable Player in Missouri Valley Conference. . .led Cardinals to third place NCAA finish his senior season, ... quick, smart ballplayer, member of National Honor Society at Washington High, played clarinet and served as president of band there. . .attended Law School at University of Wisconsin-Madison during the summer: "Basketball is fun but you have to look ahead"...remarkable leaping ability, has 43" standing vertical jump: "Jumping is just like shooting. You have to work at it. You lose quickness if you don't."...occasionally enjoys displaying some unorthodox dunk shots during game; reverse dunks, pump stuffs, and over-the-head jams, ... slowed during pre-season with inflammed achilles tendon, left ankle placed in cast for ten days, did not play in a pre-season game. . . has simple philosophy on playing basketball: "My only desire in pro basketball is to play the game and have fun. To me having fun means winning". , .led Washington High to state title in 1971 with 31-0 record. . .married wife Doris during the summer. . . graduated from Louisville with 3.2 average after making Dean's List every semester ...majored in psychology...Larry Costello: Junior gives us alot of flexibility. He does equally well at guard and forward. Last year he was unselfish, and was willing to play at either spot for the good of the team. It was difficult learning both positions, but he handled it well. This year I hope to be able to let him concentrate on the forward slot.". . .Junior likes the idea of more fastbreaking this season: "I like to run, that's what I enjoy most about the game. I've never been a long range shooter, I've always played for fastbreak teams.

Turned in his best season ever last year, averaged 21.5 points per game, shot career high .824 at free throw line... scored career high .40 pts. vs. Kansas City on January 23, 1976...led Bucks in scoring, second in rebounding with 7.4 average... named to West All Stars for third time in career...led Bucks in average minutes per game with 37.5...had 19 game hot streak during January-February during which he shot 54% from the floor, scored 20 points or more in 12 of 19 games... scored 20 points or more in 42 of total 73 games played...leads the Bucks in NBA playoff games with 60 appearances... Bobby's career field goal percentage of .491 is eighth best among active NBA players... scored his 10,000th point this season, needed just 27 going into start of year... Speaking on last season's performance: "I showed I could play on my own without Kareem around and I proved to the doubters that I'm a bonafide pro forward. I wanted to have a good year to prove a point to people not only on the floor, but also people outside the game."...ninth leading scorer in NBA last season, third leading forward in scoring in NBA, behind John Drew and George McGinnis... Dandridge was twelfth best field goal shooter in NBA with .502.. key man in Bucks running game...only remaining player from Bucks 1971 NBA title team...quick hands make him steals specialist, averaged almost 2 per game last year...likes to play tennis, also a backgammon devotee, challenges teammate Gary Brokaw constantly...Bob and wife Barbara are parents of year and a half old daughter, Shana...holds Bucks steals record with 7 in one game, vs. Boston February 5, 1975..."I'm not the vocal or rah-rah type. But the guys can look at me and say, 'Dandridge is busting his tail. He'll give up the ball, sacrifice for the team.' We need that to win as a team"...credits Oscar Robertson as biggest influence on his development as a ballplayer... "As far as small forwards go, I don't think anyone had a better year than I did last season"...Dandridge family mascot is a Great Dane nam

PRESS - RADIO - TELEVISIÓN INFORMATION

All media requests should be addressed to John Steinmiller, Bucks Director of Publicity. Press row is located at courtside, directly opposite the team benches. Seating is usually limited to writers actually doing a game story for daily newspapers and the national wire services. The Bucks publicity office will issue credentials to media personnel for admission to the Milwaukee Arena, press row, and locker rooms. Photographers will also need a special pass for courtside positions.

Radio and television broadcasting space is at courtside. Visiting radio and television stations must notify the Bucks publicity office of their intent to broadcast or telecast. Requests for line connections should be made to Commercial Department, Wisconsin Telephone Company, 633 West Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53233, 414-456-4000.

Telecopier service is generally available at every home game, Phone reservations for service to Sid Mason, 414-271-1893.
